Celebrating EMS and Nursing Week 2018

This month we celebrate not one, but TWO, underappreciated yet gravely needed professions, EMS and Nursing. Let's face it, most of our jobs can be thankless at times. But how many of us can say that we, as employees, are needed? Well, medical professionals can! They are the ones that we count on in emergency situations. The ones that are trained to be calm in chaos. The ones that take care of us and our loved ones. So, let's give colleagues in the Nursing and EMS industries a 'thank you'! If you are not in a medical professional role, then thank someone who is! As a company, we have several employees in the nursing field and three paramedics. WE APPRECIATE YOU!

Patient Advocacy

By Tom Gottschalk, COO, Medical Educator

Over two decades ago, I recall viewing a mandatory training series on respecting patient privacy. During the education series, there was an episode that demonstrated hospital staff talking about a patient conditions during an elevator ride. Unknowingly, there were friends and family of the person they were talking about with them whom overheard their conversation. Suddenly, a big red circled X appeared on the workers to let me know that this conduct was harmful. While I am quick to admit I am not sure why that video stuck in my head this month, I am certain I have made similar mistakes throughout my full-time tenure as a healthcare provider. As such, back in the day I would have been marked down as "incompetent" at "protecting and respecting patient confidentiality and dignity." by my bosses.

By Regina M. Sportsman, RMA, CMA (AAMA), BA, MM, MBA

Feedback is a form of communication and it is representative in different ways. All persons are expected to receive some type of feedback. As an educator you have a responsibility to relay information back to the students to whom you are teaching. Below you will be able to view examples of effective and ineffective feedback.

Ask the Customer Support Team

By David Smith, Customer Service Advocate

Q: One of my students was accidentally accepted into the wrong course. How do I transfer them to another course? A: In both Platinum Planner and PlatinumTests, it is not possible for School Administrators or Instructors to transfer a student from one course to another. If a student is accepted into the wrong course and their enrollment fee is paid, and they then sign up for and are accepted into the correct course, the program would expect them to pay another enrollment fee for the new course (as the program cannot know that the student isn't just signing up for two courses that they need).

Does your Program need Student Access Cards or Credit?

By John Zimmer, Client Relations Manager

Many programs still need to gain Platinum Tests or Platinum Planner student access. There are three ways students can gain access into our programs:

1. Nursing programs can purchase student access credit or cards directly through Platinum Educational Group; then the students reimburse through tuition or lab costs.
2. Students can purchase access cards through their institutions' bookstores.
3. Students can purchase access from our websites directly (PlatinumPlanner, PlatinumTests) using their own credit/debit cards.

As classes start, if you need student access for PlatinumTests or Platinum Planner, contact John Zimmer at 616-490-5395 or email EMAIL.

If your annual license ends soon, please renew prior to expiration to avoid an interruption in service. If you have questions about your license renewal, contact John Zimmer at EMAIL.
